

Alexandra Boulat

Boulat was born in 1962 in Paris.

She studied graphic art and art history at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts in Paris.

A photojournalist and war photographer, her work has been published in Time, Newsweek, Paris Match and National Geographic.

Since 2006 she had concentrated primarily on the conflict in the Gaza.

In June 2007 she suffered from a brain aneurysm in Israel where she spent three weeks in a medically induced coma. She was moved to Paris and died there in her sleep in October.